SUMMARY: Sixty-five percent of voters approved Question 9 on November 7, 2000, which amends the states' constitution to recognize the medical use of marijuana. The law took effect on October 1, 2001. The law removes state-level criminal penalties on the use, possession and cultivation of marijuana by patients who have "written documentation" from their physician that marijuana may alleviate his or her condition. Patients diagnosed with the following illnesses are afforded legal protection under this act: AIDS; cancer; glaucoma; and any medical condition or treatment to a medical condition that produces cachexia, persistent muscle spasms or seizures, severe nausea or pain. Visit:

In the 2000 general election, 65% of Nevada's voters approved a ballot initiative to amend the Nevada Constitution to "allow the possession and use of a plant of the genus Cannabis (marijuana) for the treatment or alleviation of certain illnesses upon the advice of a physician." During the 2001 Legislative session, the legislature passed AB 453, which created the infrastructure for the legalization of medical marijuana in Nevada and directed the Nevada State Health Division to adopt regulation and protocol to allow Nevadans who are suffering from debilitating disease to petition for approval and registration to possess and use marijuana for medical purposes. The Health Division met on September 10 and 12 in public workshop to hear public comment on the proposed regulations and the following regulations were filed with the Nevada Secretary of State on October 31, 2002. visit: http://www.findarticles.com/p/articles/mi_qa4102/is_200302/ai_n9205749?cm_ven=Y&cm_ite=PI

Privacy Wins in Bearman Case

David Bearman, MD, a Santa Barbara doctor who refused to turn over a patient's file subpoenaed by the state Medical Board, has been vindicated.

< say no have apparently you something this and dirt your all about read to get lawyers members board non-physician doctor?s the experts then over, look hands grimy their for ?expert? called so a over them hand material, personal access right supposed has lawyer know, not did case in>

I do not hear about them typically calling a patient and saying, "Ms. Jones, we are about to demand your personal medical records and pass them to miscellaneous strangers. Is that OK with you?"

On April 1 a state appellate court ruled that the subpoena should never have been issued for the records because the Board "failed to demonstrate sufficient facts to support a finding of good cause to invade the patient's right of privacy." LESSON PLAN:MEDICAL MARIJUANA - LEGITIMATE USE OR LEGALIZED ABUSE?

By Lisa Proski, a former middle school and high school social studies, English, reading and technology teacher.

Estimated Time: Approximately 45 minutes/1 class period

Lesson Objectives:

- Students will use cooperative learning activities to discuss opinions about medical marijuana use and see both sides of the issue
- Students will use decision making skills and strategies to render their own decision about the U.S. Supreme Court case related to medical marijuana use

Correlation to National Standards

Background:

This week, the U.S. Supreme Court is hearing arguments related to the legality of using marijuana for medical purposes. Currently, 11 states including Alaska, Arizona, California, Colorado, Hawaii, Maine, Montana, Nevada, Oregon, Vermont, and Washington have passed state laws that allow patients to use marijuana to ease symptoms based upon doctor recommendation. Opponents argue that by legalizing marijuana, even for medical use, these 11 states jeopardize the current federal drug laws. Presently, the federal government -- the U.S. Congress -- has the power to pass laws related to broad sweeping topics such as taxation and interstate commerce. Over the past decade, the states have passed laws that modify federal laws, including gun control, marriage, violence against women, and the death penalty.
